The grand jury charges:

INTRODUCTORY ALLEGATIONS

1. At all times material herein, the Federal Election Campaign Act ("FECA") was a federal statute that regulated the financing of campaigns for candidates seeking federal elective offices. Among other things, FECA: (i) limited the amount that individual contributors could give to candidates seeking federal office; (ii) prohibited the making or receipt of contributions from certain sources, including defense contractors and corporations; and (iii) required the political committees supporting candidates seeking federal office to publicly disclose contributions through the Federal Election Commission.

1 2. At all times material herein, FECA required that contributions to candidates for
2 federal office be made in the name of the person or entity supplying the money to fund the
3 contribution. In doing so, the Act prohibited individuals and entities from making contributions
4 to federal candidates in the names of other persons ("conduits").

5 3. At all times material herein, FECA limited to $1,000 the amount of money that 6 individuals could lawfully contribute to candidates seeking federal office with respect to any
7 primary or general election.

8 4. At all times material herein, FECA prohibited corporations from using their assets
9 to make contributions and expenditures in connection with the nomination and election of 10 candidates for federal office.

11 5. At all times material herein, FECA prohibited persons and entities that had, or were 12 negotiating for, contracts to provide material, equipment and supplies to the United States
13 Government from making contributions to candidates for federal office. As described more fully 14 below, defendant SCIENCE AND APPLIED TECHNOLOGIES, INC. was a government
15 contractor within the meaning of this statute.

16 6. At all times material herein, the Federal Election Commission ("FEC") was an 17 agency of the United States entrusted by statute with the responsibility of: (i) enforcing the 18 reporting requirements of FECA; (ii) making public reports of contributions and expenditures filed
19 by the political committees supporting candidates seeking nomination and election to federal 20 office; and (iii) enforcing compliance with the prohibitions and limitations imposed by FECA on 21 contributions made to influence federal elections.

22 7. At all times material herein, FECA required that each treasurer of a political 23 committee file periodic reports of receipts and disbursements with the FEC, including an 24 itemization of the names, addresses, and occupations of all persons and entities who had 25 contributed an aggregate of at least $200 within an individual calendar year to a candidate or 26 political committee. In addition, the Act required the treasurer to report the amounts, dates and 27 aggregate totals of all such contributions.

1 8. At all time material to this Indictment the United States promulgated rules and
2 regulations designed to prohibit federal contractors from improperly utilizing federal funds.
3 Among other things, these rules precluded contractors from passing on the costs of disguised
4 campaign contributions to the government.

5 9. At all time material to this Indictment the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") was an
6 agency of the United States charged with the ascertainment, computation, assessment and
7 collection of revenue, including individual and corporation income taxes. At all times herein, it
8 was improper for any corporation (or individual) to deduct campaign contributions and thereby
9 reduce its taxable income.

10 10. At all times material to this Indictment, defendant SCIENCE AND APPLIED
11 TECHNOLOGY, INC. (hereinafter "defendant SAT") was incorporated in the State of California.
12 Defendant SAT was organized as a small business (for federal contracting purposes) and operated
13 primarily as a federal contractor in the defense field. Its main offices were located in San Diego
14 and Woodland Hills, California.

15 11. At all times material to this Indictment, defendant PARTHASARATHI
16 MAJUMDER was the President, Chief Executive Officer, sole corporate officer and sole owner
17 of defendant SAT.

18 12. During calendar year 1998, the aggregate contributions made in violation of 19 Counts 13 through 40 of this Indictment exceeded $2,000.

Count 1

Beginning in or about 1990, and continuing until December 14, 1998, within the Southern District of California and elsewhere, defendants PARTHASARATHI MAJUMDER and SCIENCE AND APPLIED TECHNOLOGY, INC. did knowingly conspire with others to defraud the United States by impairing, impeding and frustrating, by deceitful and dishonest means, the lawful functions of the:

- (1) Federal Election Commission -- including its responsibility to: (i) enforce the reporting requirements of FECA; (ii) ensure public disclosure of an accurate accounting for the contributions made to, and the expenditures made by, candidates and political committees supporting candidates for federal office; and (iii) ensure compliance with the contribution limitations and prohibitions of FECA described in the Introduction to this Indictment;
- (2) Internal Revenue Service -- including its ability to ascertain, compute, assess and collect revenue, that is, federal individual income taxes; and
- (3) Department of Defense -- including its ability to supervise and administer defense contracts and ensure that its funds be disbursed on an appropriate and lawful basis.

Methods and Means

1. It was a method of the conspiracy that defendant PARTHASARATHI MAJUMDER would fraudulently enhance his educational background and falsely claim to possess a Ph.D.

2. It was a further method of the conspiracy that defendant PARTHASARATHI MAJUMDER would solicit employees (and their family members), subcontractors and personal friends to contribute to various politicians he believed could affect the awarding of business -- and the release of funds -- to defendant SAT.

3. It was a further method of the conspiracy that defendant PARTHASARATHI MAJUMDER would inform defendant SAT employees that the company's existence depended on his ability to raise federal campaign contributions.

4. It was a further method of the conspiracy that defendant PARTHASARATHI MAJUMDER would inform defendant SAT employees that contributions to specific congressmen, including Congressman Duncan Hunter and Congressman Randy "Duke" Cunningham and Senator John Kerry, were necessary for the success of an experimental program than being

1 developed by the defendant SAT -- the Advanced Anti-Radiation Guided Missile (hereinafter
2 "AARGM") program.

3 5. It was a further method of the conspiracy that defendant PARTHASARATHI
4 MAJUMDER would and did solicit defendant SAT employees (and their family members) and
5 defendant SAT subcontractors (and their family members) to make political contributions to the 6 above candidates (and others) for federal office.

7 6. It was a further method of the conspiracy that defendant PARTHASARATHI
8 MAJUMDER would reimburse straw donors who were unwilling to utilize their own funds to 9 make campaign contributions by providing them with cash payments and writing checks drawn
10 on his personal checking account.

11 7. It was a further method of the conspiracy that defendant PARTHASARATHI
12 MAJUMDER would also reimburse straw donors for their campaign contributions by instructing
13 SAT's payroll clerk to award bonuses from the corporate assets of SAT to employees who were 14 not willing to make campaign contributions without receiving some form of reimbursement.

15 8. It was a further method of the conspiracy that defendant PARTHASARATHI
16 MAJUMDER would also reimburse straw donors for their campaign contributions by instructing
17 a subcontractor (who was otherwise unwilling to make campaign contributions) to inflate the labor
18 hours on his SAT time sheets to cover the amount of various contributions.

19 9. It was a further method of the conspiracy that defendants SAT and
20 PARTHASARATHI MAJUMDER would seek to have various congressmen attempt to influence
21 the awarding of business -- and the release of funds -- to defendant SAT.

22 10. It was a further method of the conspiracy that defendant SAT would improperly seek 23 payment from the United States Navy for campaign contributions (disguised as bonuses and 24 inflated wages) when submitting its billing records.

25 11. It was a further method of the conspiracy that defendant SAT would improperly
26 deduct campaign contributions (disguised as bonuses and inflated wages) as business expenses
27 on its federal tax returns.
28

12. It was a further method of the conspiracy that defendant PARTHASARATHI MAJUMDER would direct straw donors to falsely claim to federal investigators that his campaign reimbursements were loans given by defendant PARTHASARATHI MAJUMDER to the employees.
